Dimensions: 93' x 20' x 15'-8".

This vessel which was built as a Yacht in 1904 was converted into a cargo vessel in 1916, the present class being A- "with freeboard", "For service between London and Boulogne".

A representative of Messrs. Embiricos, who propose to purchase the vessel, has called at this Office, with the authority of the present Owners, to enquire if the class of the vessel could be altered to permit it being engaged in trading between Piraeus and Syra and Volo.

He was informed that it was considered that the Committee would approve the class being altered as desired, and was requested to submit his proposals in writing if the purchase was proceeded with.
