

S.s. "PALUDINA".

This case has been discussed with Mr. Barker of the Anglo Saxon Petroleum Co., Ltd., who states that including this vessel they have been granted a second extension for the Special Surveys of seven of their steamers. No further application for extensions is likely to be made for seagoing ships. Mr. Barker further stated that these applications had only been made on account of tonnage difficulties. The Owners may however use two or three of the vessels as store ships and they will in due course ask that the Committee will allow these particulars to remain in the Register Book and the vessels be allowed in due course to proceed under their own power, without cargo, to their breaking up ports.
