The Secretary,
LONDON.

Sir,

On inspecting to-day the equipment for the Steamer "MONITORIA", Messrs Osbourne Graham & Co's No.146, I found that the anchor heads for the stockless anchors had been tested at the works of Messrs Otto Gruson & Co, Madgeburg-Buckau, by the Surveyor to the British Corporation, and I shall be glad to know if this test is considered satisfactory and to have a reply at your earliest convenience, as the ship is now completed.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. S. Ashburn
