Manchester, 24 July 1918.

The Secretary
London.

Sir.

With reference to the classing letter of the 23rd instant
referring to the Steamer "Missida" our report No 4139 I beg to inform you that there are no mast wedges in way of the deck. the masts being secured by angle rings or coamings.

The old donkey boiler stated by the Cardiff Surveyors to have been dismantled last August is still on board; the Superintendent stated that as soon as a new boiler could be procured it would be fitted on board.

I am, Sir, Yours faithfully
A. Campbell

It should be pointed out to the Surveyors that the rules

Referred to the Chief Ship Surveyor, and was Chief Engineer Surveyor.

1 C.S.D.

Also for Mr S. A. Hill to note.
