I am very much surprised to receive your telegram saying Lloyds Surveyor will not pass the Anchors on account of them being light collectively, which works out at under one quarter per this to my mind is a negligable quantity and ought not to make fference, if after putting this to the Surveyor he will not pass anchors, please write to Lloyds and explain the case fully to them have no doubt but they will allow the Surveyor to pass them. o busy with Admiralty service Anchors I cannot possibly replace considerable time.

Yours faithfully,

John Green
