Re, K. I.

Mr Sparrow
Sir

Enclosed I send your letter from Lloyds. I cannot understand for one moment why they require 6 pair of hanging knees where there table only require 4 pair. Up to 150 tons. The K. I. has also an iron staple knee to every hold beam where Lloyds only require the beam in the wake of the Hosts Knee. If they insist on this being carried out which I consider very unfair we will do so when she arrives as she is now bound here

Yours Respectly
C. Pearson
